Decision Apps for a Wiser World

'Tools for smarter thinking'

Imagine what you could achieve in business and in life if you had the decision apps to make the right decision at the right time!

Now University-trialed, research-based assessments, tools and processes are available which can help you make more accurate predictions about the outcomes of your decisions.

At this one-day workshop you will:

- Understand how to interpret your individual DPS (Decision Processing Survey)* Report and enhance your self-awareness about your decision-making style
- Discover how to overcome biases and personal blocks to improve your personal productivity
- Learn how to balance logic with intuition and make smarter decisions for a less stressful life
- Identify your unconscious decision processes and how to limit the probability of being "wrong" in making decisions
- Find out how the emotional dimensions of your decisions can lift your employability
- Recognise the missing element in decision-making and how it can help you to become a wiser leader
- Work directly with the researchers and developers of the DPS (Decision Processing Survey)*

Presenters

Dr Barry Partridge

Barry has devoted much of the last ten years researching managers' decision practices while completing a PhD in psychology in 2007 (University of Wollongong). His research has established the nature of biases evident in managers' decision-making and the impact of biased workplace imagery on their employment decisions.

He has completed many local and overseas consulting assignments with the Asian Development Bank in the Philippines (HR policy work), the UNDP in Malaysia (Government-Business delivery of education and training) and AusAid in Fiji (developing managers of promise).

Peter Webb

Peter is an Organisational and Coaching Psychologist with an applied research focus in the psychology of wisdom. He has coached Managers, Executive Managers, Directors, and Partners over thousands of hours across a diverse range of commercial and government enterprises, and trained hundreds of consultants, coaches, and managers as coaches.

His Organisation Change Consultancy provides a unique perspective on Leadership drawing from Positive Psychology, Neurobiology, and Complexity Theory.
